19 official side events have been selected.

Official side events constitute one of the pillars of the Environment Assembly and alongside the formal programme they are an opportunity for member states and other accredited entities to address relevant areas, share experiences, find solutions, and inspire partnerships.

UN Member States, non-member States, intergovernmental organizations and entities, including the Secretariats of the Multilateral Environmental Agreements, specialized agencies and UN system entities and major groups and stakeholders accredited to the UN Environment Programme and its governing bodies are strongly encouraged to partner with others in the organization of the official side event.

All applications received via the online application form were thoroughly reviewed by the Secretariat based on a set of selection criteria to ensure a broad geographical representation of stakeholders, the potential to add value to UNEA sessions, as well as the resonance in relation to the overall theme for UNEA-7. The final list of selected official side events was approved by the Joint UNEA and CPR Bureaux at its meeting on 11 September 2025.

Read the final list of approved official side events.

Read the guidelines for event organizers and consult the side events venue brochure.

The Secretariat will reach out individually to selected event organizers only.
